

Carol Cordy, M.D.

Medical Director

Swedish Community Health

Family Medicine

Medical degree: University of Washington School of Medicine

Residency: Group Health Cooperative, Seattle, Wash.

Dr. Cordy believes all patients deserve respectful care and understanding regardless of personal circumstances and mental status. Her clinical interests include psychiatry and mental illness, patient education, obstetrics and chronic disease management. A former Peace Corps volunteer, Dr. Cordy is a member of the American and Washington Academies of Family Medicine and the Physicians for Social Responsibility; she is also a Clinical Associate Professor at the University of Washington School of Medicine. During her free time, she enjoys playing Scrabble, cooking, knitting and photography.