

TINA PAPPAS

Tina Pappas is a respected leader in the Puget Sound commercial real estate community with extensive experience in executive leadership and strategic growth. She has held senior leadership roles across brokerage, development, and property management platforms, including serving as President of TPS, where she led both commercial and multifamily real estate teams.

Tina is currently President of NAI Puget Sound Properties and has been consistently recognized for her leadership and community impact. In 2024, she was named one of the Puget Sound region's 100 Most Influential Leaders and is a member of Seattle's 40 Under 40 Hall of Fame. She has also been recognized by Commercial Real Estate Women (CREW) as a Woman of Influence, reflecting her commitment to advancing women in leadership.

Her dedication to service spans both business and philanthropy. Tina served as 2020 Board President of NAIOP, is an active member of the International Women's Forum (IWF), and has been involved with the Seattle Theater Group for almost 20 years, supporting arts access, education, and community engagement.

